

Here are some of the exciting things on the horizon:

Palm Springs, California will host WIC 2017, April 25-28, 2017, and it promises to be another dynamic, valuable conference, full of opportunities for business development, networking, and education.

We'll be working on the development of building an education program geared toward technicians and others in the field, as well as providing sales or other training programs for you and your teams.

Our ANSI Committee and the U.S./ISO TAG will continue its important work advocating for safety guidelines for woodworking machinery.

We'll be launching a marketing campaign which emphasizes to our customers the value of investing in new equipment and technology, and to accompany that, we'll be revamping the WoodworkingTechnology.com website.

Thank you for your participation in, and support of, WMIA during the last year. We look forward to working with you in the year to come!
